SUPPLEMENT TO THE STANDARD.

OFFICE OF

ANTI-POLYGAMY STANDARD.

Salt Lake City, Utah, 1881.

DEAR FRIEND

We are in much need of funds to carry on our work, which is being continually prosecuted under great difficulties. The feeling abroad on this question among the masses is, "It is none of our business," and people here are deterred from doing their duty from various interested or prudential reasons. If it had not been for the courage as well as material assistance of a few noble women, this paper would not have existed as long as it has.

The Standard is doing a grand work by enlightning the people of the country in regard to the evils of polygamy, and during the past year many thousand copies have been distributed free. We are now in need of $200 for paper, which will carry us through another year.

We do not ask you to donate one cent, we simply ask will you not renew at once if your subscription has expired, pay up if you are in arrears. And try and send us one new subscriber. If each will do their part, we will be assured of successful work for at least one more year.

Cordially Yours,

Standard Publishing Co.
